WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The president's dash into Fonetix caused very little to be done in the departments today but a discussion of ways and means of combising with the order. There is only one little question raised, and that affects the civil service commission. Applicants are held for spelling on the authority of "some standard" dictionary, and as a general rule there is so much difference in the "standard" dictionaries that any kind of spelling goes on a civil service of semination providing there is that kind of spelling in any old dictionary. The president, however, can order the civil service commission to take no authority to the Coyster. Mayor Schmitz' Threat to Run for Governor

SANDY'S GOSSIP

Lining Up Delegates in State Fight

SAN.FRANCISCO, August 25.—The threat of Mayor Schmitz to run as an independent candidate for governor, startled the politicians this week, and they are at all sorts of pains to account for the mayor's unexpected action. The overwise men seem to see in this attitude of Schmitz a deep, dark and sinister design on the part of Abe Ruef to force the Republican convention at Santa Cruz to make Schmitz its nomince or else to force Herrin to give Ruef all the patronage offices on the ticket.

These sages and oracles seem to forget that the mayor said he would not permit his name to go before the Republican convention. That knocks all the smister design out of the supposed Ruef program. The fact is Ruef doesn't run Mayor Schmitz half as much as people think he does. The mayor has a mind of his own, and Ruef has to defer to him quits as often as he defers to Ruef.

The simple fact of this last position of the mayor is that he really wants to be governor, and thinks that with Republican, Democratic and Independence League candidates in the fieldnot to mention the Socialists and Prohibitionists—he might have a fair chance to win out. Schmitz has long hankered after the governorship, and since the big fire he has had assurances of support for his ambition from so many sources hitherto antagonistic that he has come to regard himself as quite the logical candidate. He believes himself very popular in the State, and Ruef shares in that belief. He certainly is very popular in San Francisco That has been demonstrated.

Then, somewhere behind the ambition is a bit of pique. The mayor thinks he hasn't had the support he thinks he had the right to expect from certain influential quarters. Just what he vanted support on, and whether he is piqued at Herrin I do not know. But there is a rift in the lute somewhere and that is why Schmitz threatens to play the jangling political

It will be instructive to note the action taken by the caucus of the Bucf delegates next Tuesday night. If they should shout aloud for Schmitz and pledge themselves to him for governor, the situation would be quite embarrassing for some aspirants for office. But there will be no such shouting or pledging, unless Ruef permits it to go on. If he wants to shake Hayes, that would be one way of doing it, but I doubt whether he would be guilty of such a subterfuge or whether Hayes would be misled by it. So that meeting will tell quite a story.

Out of that meeting we may be able to get an answer to the question whether Ruef intends to knife your man, Presiding Judge Hall, of the Appellate court in the first district. There have been persistent rumors that Hall is to be sacrificed, but I have not been able to trace them to an authoritative source. Ruef is mum on the subject, and even the Herrin lieutenants do not seem to have any information about the matter. With his votes in San Francisco and the Hayes votes in Santa Clara, Ruef nearly, or quite, dominates this Appellate court district, so he can set up or pull down the judges at his sweet will, unless he had some understanding before the primary that Herrin was to attend to the naming of the judges.

Ruef says his only object in getting the San Francisco delegates together is to let them express their preferences and desires, and come to some conclusion as to what they will work for at Santa Cruz. He says that heretofore the San Francisco delegates have sat around conventions merely waiting for orders. Now he proposes to make of his delegation a great working force to carry forward the demands or desires of the metropolis. The unit rule may be adopted, but it is not binding on delegates elected at the polls at a primary. It would be a convenient way to dodge obligations, however, and to avoid the importunings of candidates who are not on the slate.

Herrin lieutenants and Ruef are not on the best of terms. He thinks that Jere Burke, George Hatton and some of the others are sitting down and fixing up slates when he is not taken into the bargain. He does not think they are dividing the pie fairly with him. Whether his pique at the lieutenants will cause a breach between Ruef and Hebrin remains to be seen. Up to now there has been an understanding that Ruef is to work with the "Organization," but unless he is permitted to have a hand in the grab-bag he will not play. A breach is possible, though not probable.

Some of the lieutenants say very positively that they can organize the convention, nommate Gillett and put through the slate without the aid of Ruef and his San Francisco votes. That may be true, and some boasts to that effect might have caused the throwing forward of Schmitz as a possible independent candidate. Still I cling to my own view that the Schmitz candidacy is the outgrowth of a big ambition and a little pique. But let's look into the question of whether the Herrin machine can turn the trick without Ruef.

I can't find the votes without giving the machine everything it lays claim to and putting in some of your Alameda county delegates. I suppose something like thirty of the men from your county could be handled in organizing the convention, and I can see where the machine could go that far without the aid of Ruef and with the opposition of Pardee and Hayes. But when it conles to nominating Gillett, your Alameda county men would have to stick to Pardee; and unless Herrin could take a big bunch of the San Francisco delegates away from Ruef, I cannot count Gillett as a winner on anything like an early ballot. There would have to be a break from Pardee, and the Lorigan men in Santa Clara would have to leave Hayes before Gillett could get a total vote of 413-the number necessary to win in a convention composed of 825 delegates.

To be sure, Walter Parker has 118 of the 129 delegates from Los Angeles; and Charlie Hardy has the eighteen from San Diego; and there are nine in Orange, twelve in San Bernardino, seven in Riverside, seven in Ventura and eleven in Santa Barbara to begin with—the great southern combination, where the machine is very much on top. Then there is the Gillett block of votes in the north, beginning with Humboldt's twenty, and taking in Mendocino's twelve; Shasta's eight, and Nevada's nine, with a lot of smaller counties. But Sacrameto, Yolo and Napa are pledged to Pardee; San Joaquin is split; Contra Costa is for Pardee; Solano is split; the San Joaquin valley counties are by no means easily handled, and Tulare has given Pardee instructions. So if you eliminate San Francisco and Santa Clara it would be mighty hard sledding for the machine to grind through its program. Consequently, I do not look for a breach with Ruef; though the lieutenants are very positive they can hammer things through without him.

It now is becoming generally accepted that Gillett is to be the Republican nominee. I believe I gave you that tip some time ago. I notice that Pardee in an interview stated that of course if Herrin was to pull the delegates away from him he would be defeated. Evidently the light is breaking in on the Governor at last. Charlie Spear and the other Pardee workers have been deluded into thinking Herrin was going to keep hands off. He never has been hands off for one minute since the campaign began, and he never has intended to let Pardee have that nomination, if he could keep it away from him. I think a trick was played on the Pardee men, and that they were deluded into a false feeling of security. I cannot explain their failure to make a stubborn fight in some of the counties on any other hypothesis. They certainly let many of the counties go by default, and consequently the machine is in a position of more complete control than it has been in many a long year. The very thought of doing away with the San Francisco delegation shows how secure the organization managers feel in their position.

The Independence League has called its convention for Oakland on the 6th of September, which certainly was very soon after the movement was sprung in California. But the idea is to keep just one day behind the Republican convention, and finish in such time that the Democratic convention can when it meets in Sacramento on the 11th of September, indorse some of the League nominees, if it sees fit.

In talking with some of the League managers, and saving that I didn't think much of their collection of Democratic hasbeens that assembled at their first meeting in the Temple, they asked me if I had seen any greater enthusiasm at any political gathering this year. I had to admit that the enthus asm topped anything I had seen elsewhere. Then one of the managers of the movement went on to say:

"Of course we do not expect to jump in and win this election. It would be absurd to hope for such a thing. But a new party must make a start some time, and it cannot start unless at a time when people are interested in politics. That is why we kicked the thing off now and decided to put a ticket in the field this year. Of course, people will laugh at us at first. They laughed at the Republican party when it started. People laughed at the Salvation Army for a good while. They don't laugh at either the Republican party or the Salvation Army any more. Our rolls are filling up with the names of genuine workingmen, and you will find that we'll make quite a respectable showing this fall. Then, the seed having been sown, we will leave it to grow for the future. Certainly we are not to be like the squab-biggest at birth. Don't laugh at us so that people hear you or you'll be ashained of yourself a few years

Bad Debt Collection in Egypt. Americans who have accepted the delusive idea that the United States, as a corollary of the Monroe Doctrine, should assume the role of an international bad debt collector will be instructed, if they will read the articles recently printed in the Arena, over the signature of Ernest Crosby, late Judge of the Mixed Court of Alexandria, Egypt Mr. Crosby speaks from personal knowledge of conditions in Egypt and a practical experience with the system of bad debt collection as practiced by a strong nation against a weak debtor nation. He shows that political and economic slavery has resulted from England going into Egypt as a bum bailiff to enforce the payment of a debt conceived in fraud and imposed on the Egyptians without their consent. The foreign tax gatherer has become the owner and the ruler of the land.

Foreign promoters induced the weak and sensual Khedive Ismail to issue bonds in a vast sum for a great system of internal improvements. The greater portion of the money thus obtained was stolen by contractors, promoters and court ministers or squandered by the Khedive in foolish extravagances. Only a trifling amount was expended in carrying out the projects for which the money was borrowed. The natural consequence ensued. The money having been stolen or wasted, the finances of the country became deranged, taxes multiplied, depression prevailed, and disorder and discontent became rife. Then the English and French bond holders appealed to their respective governments to collect the defaulted interest on the Egyptian debt. With the assent of France, the British government installed Sir Evelyn Baring, now Lord Cromer, in Cairo, as Diplomatic Agent for the purpose of collecting the interest on those crooked bonds That was more than 25 years ago, and Lord Cromer is still there, and Egypt, a nominal appanage of the Turkish Crown, has become to all intents and purposes a British possession. The suzerainty of the Sultan has been abolished and the author-Ity of the Khedive reduced to a mere fiction.

Immediately on his arrival in Egypt, Lord Cromer took charge of the collection and disbursement of taxes. He sequestered the crown lands, estimated at one fourth the arable area of the country and by right the property of the people held in trust by the Khedive, and applied the revenues, not to the expense of government, but to the payment of accrued debts and interest and providing for the future payment of the outstanding bonded debt.

It is axiomatic that whoever collects and disburses the public revenues of a country is the real ruler and master thereof. Lord chooses to call it, came from an avowed candidate for the Demo-Cromer exemplified this completely in Egypt. He could not collect for the usury of an unjust and fraudulent debt without wringing taxes from the impoverished and reluctant natives. As the expenses of government had to be provided for somehow, he allotted the amounts that should be expended on that score and directed the ex- and the councils of the party-a bull of excommunication, in short. penditure in order to prevent waste and diversion. As a deputy for The accuracy of Mr Bryan's estimate of Mr. Sullivan's character and foreign robbery, he instituted rigid economy in the administration fidelity to Democratic principles, whatever they may be, is cast into of Egyptian affairs that his collections for the creditors should not the background by Mr. Bryan's tone of command and assumption fail. He employed British troops, paid out of Egyptian revenues, to suppress insurrections and enforce the authority of the Khedive

He thus became the source of all power, and compelled the enactmenut of laws to further his purpose and the appointmnet of judges who would enforce his measures and edicts. In short, established a despotism as complete as history records. Its only relieving aspect is that he is a broad-minded, liberal man of benevolent instincts, who has performed his filthy task as tactfully, wisely and mercifully as its predatory and oppressive character would permit.

Before the time of Ismail the taxes were light and the soil belonged to the Egyptians. Now the taxes are heavy and the land is owned by strangers. Lord Cromer instituted many notable improvements to increase the productiveness of the soil, and thus increase the revenues, but the usufruct is divorced from the natives, who have been dispossessed of the heritage of their fathers and are only tenants of foreign landlords or common laborers, eking out a miserable existence as a reward for their toil. The governmental reforms and economies instituted by Lord Cromer are of no benefit to them. The order he has established, while desirable in many respects and beneficent in the eyes of Europeans, has merely made more sure and ruthless the despoilment of the felialisen by the tax gatherer. Order in Egypt is simply an instrument of rapacity.

To facilitate his designs as a bailiff destraining a whole nation, Lord Cromer has overthrown the ancient system of jurisprudence to which the Egyptians were accustomed, and to which their social estate and their religion were adapted. The summary of a strange at this time. code, devised for a different order of society, different ideas and perceptions, and a different code of morals, was substituted for the elastic procedure based on the Koran and mitigated by bribery and the merciful instincts of a lax system and the benevolent tenets a patriarchal faith. In his pursuit of the creditor's pound of flesh Lord Cromer has uprooted ancient law and custom wherever they stood in his way, deprived a whole people of landed proprietorship, and instituted a system of alien landlordism of corporations and com-

But he has planted British rule in Egypt and established the national credit-fine euphuism for an enslaved country-on a sound basis. A magnificent achievement truly! He has served the bond holders and the policy of Great Britain well, but what of the his last illness. poor Egyptians? Mr. Crosby does not give their side of it, but he 'tells us what he has seen of it. The story is damning enough to deter any American from wanting his government to engage in such business. "Why cannot a government behave like a gentleman?" asks Mr. Crosby. It can, but it cannot by undertaking to make New York, it being well understood that Mr. Hearst will run as the weak and helpless nations pay debts, whether just or unjust, due other nations, or the citizens of other countries. Our government should keep its hands clean of such iniquities.

No Democrat has announced himself as willing to take the nomination against Congressman Knowland. We do not see why linee for Governor, would have to go forth wearing the Tammany anyone should. Mr. Knowland has served his district so ably and label. successfully that no one has risen to find fault with him. He has proved himself an effective worker in Congress, and it would be manifest folly to change him for a new man. That is a potent suggestion from the standpoint of public policy and local expediency, but aside from this consideration there is not the ghost of a chance of anybody beating Mr. Knowland. Each of the three counties composing the Third District is strongly Republican, and Mr. Knowland is deservedly "opular in all of them. He is stronger than his party, and the normal Republican majority is fully 7000. It is a good man that will come within 10.000 votes of beating Joe Knowland. This fact is so well known that no Democrat cares to run against him. Our friends, the enemy, had better do the thing gracefully and make the election unanimous.

In a recent magazine article Louise Markscheffel (whoever she may be) discourses ineffectively on "The Right of a Child Not to Be Born." The subject affords a field for a certain sort of philosophizing about as vague and inconclusive as twiddling one's thumbs. People who question if marriage is or is not a failure are bafflling enough to the common sense, but persons who presume to discuss an assumed right which can only be exercised by prexy and without 'e consent of the party (yet to be) in interest are still more imposed le from a practical point of view. If a child has a right not to be born, it has an equal right to be born. How is the desire, assuming it to exist inchoately, to be ascertained, whether it be one thing or the other? Hamlet's question, "To be or not to be?" expresses the foreboding, doubting condition of a morbid, irresolute mind illustrative of a phase of psychology. But this Markscheffel woman reduces metaphysical inquiry to the little end of nothing. One can discern in her misty moralizing, however, a covert defense of race suicide. She assumes that a child has a right not to be born because of existing conditions, and from that premise argues, as if she were throwing a rock at a hen, that avoidance of parenthood is wise and beneficent. An absurd text for an immoral thesis. She leaves it all up to the parent, who is controlled in such cases entirely by personal motives. If the unborn have any rights at all, they are as broad one way as the other. Since it depends upon the indiridual will of someone else, it is futile to discuss them. Miss Markscheffel's logic leads to the conclusion of the tinker who would never marry for fear his son would be hanged for sheep stealing. But futile as her logic is, there is no mistaking the code of morality exposed like a dirty sock in Miss Markscheffel's collection of mental underwear. She proposes to make a virtue of a crime.

Mr. Bryan's Role of Boss.

The Grass Valley Union says Mr. Bryan did not "order" Roger Sullivan to resign from the National Democratic Committee, but 'requested" him to resign. A distinction without a difference since the request was coupled with a threat that Bryan would demand Sullivan's expulsion in case he refused to voluntarily retire from the committee. Our Grass Valley contemporary admits that Bryan. had no more right to demand Sullivan's resignation than any other member of the Democratic party. That is precisely our position But Bryan's order, command, demand, request, or whatever one cratic Presidential nomination. It was not the expression of a mere member of the party, but a direction from a candidate and leader. Hence was a mandate. It was followed up by a command to the Democratic party to put Mr. Sullivan out of the committee of personal authority. The issue presented is neither Mr. Bryan nor Mr. Sullivan, but the arbitrary dictation of the former, which presumes to override the authority of the National Committee as a body and the expressed desire of the Democratic party of Illinois. This is bossism pure and simple, and no amount of sophistry can disguise the fact. It is no concern of Republicans, of course, whether the mass of Democrats submit to it or not, but the verities of the proposition are not to be altered by an appeal to the purity of Mr. Bryan's motives. Let it be conceded that he desires to do right, and the fact still remains that he has taken upon himself the office of party dictator.

The nomination of Hoke Smith for Governor in Georgia has tarted all the jokesmiths in the country to running.

The Democrats of San Joaquin are vainly searching for candidates to nominate on their county ticket. They should advertise in the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, the best evening paper in California.

Secretary Root has managed to get the Drago Doctrine referred to The Hague tribunal. We trust he will not have a like reference made of the Monroe Doctrine.

If Mayor Schmitz runs for Governor as an independent candidate, will Mr. Ruef support him or the nominee of the Republican convention? It strikes us that this is not an impertinent question

The claim for $33,000 presented by a Philadelphia physician against the estate of a deceased patient recalls a solemn joke perpetrated by Judge Coffey of San Francisco. An eminent physician presented a bill of $1200 for a capital operation performed in the last hours of the deceased. "Did the patient recover as a result of the operation?" inquired the Judge. "No, your honor," replied the attornev for the doctor, "he died." "Under the circumstances I do not see why the heirs should object to paying the bill," said his honor with exaggerated gravity. The bill was allowed without further protest. Looked at in this light, the heirs of the Philadelphia man should be reconciled to the charge of the doctor who attended him in

William Travers Jerome is firing a lot of picturesque filth at William Randolph Hearst. He opened his mud batteries when he began to be spoken of as a Democratic candidate for Governor of nominee of the Independence League. Jerome won his way to office in New York by unstinted abuse of the Tammany bosses, and thinks the same tactics will avail in a campaign for Governor; but he will find the situation entirely different. Mr. Hearst is not in the category of Murphy and McCarren, while Mr Jerome, as a Democratic nom-

TOO FEW DEPUTIES MAKE JAIL BREAK POSSIBLE

Sheriff Is Inadequately Supplied and All His Under Officers Are Worked Overtime.

Sheriff Barnet states that owing to a shortage of deputies in his office and the fact that there is but one main in the county jail on each watch, it would not be a difficult matter for an outsider, wearing an imitation police or sheriff's badge, to carry out a plan for a general jail delivery. He is also handicapped in the general duties of his affice, owing to the fact that he has no outside deputies, being obliged to do the work himself.

There is a problem in fact many problems, which Shiff Barnet finds difficult of solution ine most perplexing of these is the fact that the sheriff is short of deputies there being such a lack in this direction that there is not even one man for outside work. Most of this devolves upon the sheriff himself, and if he does not find time to attend to it he is obliged to pay for the work out of his own pocket.

"And the worst of it all," said Sheriff Barnet, "is that the Legislature is unable to remedy the trouble because of a decision by the Supremi Court to the effect that the appointment of other deputies is considered extra compensation for the sheriff of a county and this is said to be unconstitutional, his saiary being fixed by law." TWO GOOD DRUG STORES

CHANGING OF THE

SEASONS

What does it mean to you?

Just at this time of year one is apt to be woozy. We are very likely to feel as though something were out of joint.

But don't imagine that it's anything serious. It's merely the changing of the seasons which means the changing of the climate and the demand for a little personal attention.

Nor do we need to be filled up with drugs. Such a thing will in ninety-nine times out of a hundred prove to be worse than the condition you attempt to cure. You probably need just a little tonic. Your blood may be a little sluggish and our Port_ Wine and Iron may prove to be worth its weight in gold. Or it may be that a little blood mixture is necessary and if so we have just the right

Anything we sell you, anything we tell you, can be relied upon.

And while everything that passes over our counter is of the purest and best, our prices will always be lower than the lowest to be found in other stores.

THOSE TRUNKS OF OSGOODS

are wonders. Because of the goodness of our trunks we have been forced to open up an enlarged trunk and suit case department down stairs. To display trunks properly and to give you a chance to look all around them and inside them, it is necessary to have plenty of room. So we have fitted up the basement for this purpose and you will find in it two carloads of the best trunks that were ever made. They're not only the best in appearance, workmanship, convenience and strength, but they are the best in price.

As an example, let us tell you that the same trunk for which we charge $7 is sold by other dealers for $12. And all our trunks are priced in the same proportion.

If you are seeking a suit case, we want you to see our $4.50 special. You will thank us for making the suggestion after you have seen it. It is one of those trunks that we do not need to sell-it sells itself.

The Joy of Smoking

Do you smoke? Do you enjoy a good cigar? Is it any satisfaction to know that you can save money without in any way reducing the quality of your smoke?

Do you know that Osgoods' cigar departments are the exclusive mediums by which you can do this?

We carry every grade of good cigars and we sell every cigar at a special price.

Our "specials" are not the cheapest grade of cigars, wrapped in fancy tags and given fancy names. We take Optimos, Sinceridads, Palencias and all similar world-known brands and sell them to you, full-size, for 10c a piece.

Here's a clean saving of twenty per cent. Nor do we ask you to take it in coupons. We give you the reduction in cash.

That's the way we conduct our cigar busi-

Ladies find it agreeable to patronize our smokers' departments because we don't permit gambling machines on our counters, but sell smokers' articles with as much dignity and propriety as we sell scented soaps and perfumes.

ECONOMIC BEET

CULTURE SOLVED

(Special to THE TRIBUNE, W. R. Neartt service, over longest leased wire in the World.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.— Professor W. W. Tracy of the department of agriculture has just returned from the far west where he has been looking after the experiments with beet seed on which the department has been working for years. As a result of these operation it is announced tollay by Charles F. Sayler, special agent of this work, that a one-germ seed has been developed which will solve the problem of economic beet culture in this country.

This is one of the most remarkable processes in plant development the department scientists have ever under-A beet seed in fact is not a seed, but a cluster of seeds in a small husk planted, each germ inside the husk starts a little plant. The small cluster thus crowds each other and it is necessary to pull, by hand, all but one in order that it may have room to develop a beet fit for sugar. Abroad where labor is cheap, this is done by hand; in this country nobody will do such work. Farmers want to cultivate such work. Farmers want to contivate their farms from a spring-seated cultivator drawn by four horses. So the beet industry has grown slowly because there was nobody to pull the superfluous beets.

Francis Eaton, a French journalist, is under arrest on a charge of battery preferred by Isldore Rebis. The two men met on Broadway yesterday afternoon and after exchanging a few words, it is declared that Eaton struck Rebis

Seat of Senator Perkins Involved in Gubernatorial Contest.

By Joseph E. Baker.

The senatorial succession is beginning to loom up on the horizon of the gubernatorial fight. Abe Ruef is an active and avowed candidate, and the nominations for the logislature in San ance of his ambition. Rust expects the Hayes brothers to deliver him the Santa Clara senators and assemblyman, and with a few other pick-ups enough votes to control the Republican caucus. If he can nominate Hayes for governor he will have a powerful ally, and if he throws his strength to some other candidate he can make conditions that will aid him to secure a seat in the senate.

It is assumed that Gillett would do all in his power to help George A. Knight, who has long cherished an ambition to sit in the American House of Lords. Knight is credited with pulling Gillett into the gubernatorial fight, and stands before the state as ing Gillett into the gubernatorial fight, and stands before the state as his political sponsor. Moreover, George Hatton, who has been Senator Perkins' political agent in two campaigns, is Gillett's manager. This mixes the babies up in a sense, but it is supposed to improve Knight's chances. It is argued that Ruef will be benefited with Hayes in the governor's chair, and that Knight will be the beneficiary if Gillett wins.

If Schmitz runs independent and gets elected, Ruef will have the administration back of him anyhow, so he has two strings to his bow, to say nothing of his trading advantage.

But in the meantime George C. Perkins who has never lost a political battle, and is popular throughout the state, still wears the toga, and has two years to serve. Although his political agent, George Hatton, has undertaken to land Gillett in the gubernatorial chair, Senator Perkins has declared in favor of Perkins, The situation is therefore interesting, since Gillett's hope of winning depends upon a coalition with Ruef's forces, in case a combine of that character is effected, will Knight or Ruef have to curb his ambition, or will George Hatton be compelled to grieve at seeing Senator Perkins walk the plank? There is room here for speculation—and sympathy.

kins walk the plank? There is room here for speculation—and sympathy. The political "dope fiends" of the San Francisco press have dropped the ridculous story that Governor Pardee is trying to straighten out Alameda county politics. There never was any truth in it. The governor has studiously refrained from intervening in contests for nominations on the county ticket. He has asked nobody to support this man or oppose that man; and, indeed, has left the county candidates to fight out their rivairies in and, indeed, has left the county candidates to fight out their rivalries in their own way—provided they made no attempt to embarrass him. That is the situation today, and has been all along, notwithstanding the reports to the contrary.

In county politics there is no change to report. The only two fights that can be called open are for the district attornoyship and assessorship, and there is a stiff bulge on one side of each. The point of view governs the size and location of the bulge, for all can't see ailke, and in all snipe-hunts there must be some sucker to hold the

the fact that he is a candidate for

"Shop of the Crafters" Furniture

Many of our patrons will remember Professor Horti's dining room at the St. Louis Fair and his designs for the decoration of the Hungarian sections in the Palace of Fine Arts building, Manufacturer's building and Mines and Metallurgy building.

So wholly delightful in its originality was Professor Horti's work that it exerted a far reaching influence on the general crafts' movement throughout the world.

Professor Horti's effort, since that time, with the "Shop of the Crafters," of Cincinnati has been equally original until today the product of these clever folks, under the Dutch management of Oscar Onken, far excels all craftsmen's creations throughout the world.

So scarce are the genuine "Shop of the Crafters" articles, so limited is their output that to possess even an inexpensive book rack is rare good fortune.

All productions are protected against imitation by the "Shop of the Crafters'" trade mark. The wood generally used is selected church oak. Cushions are of genuine Spanish Roan skin, hand laced. The dull waxed finishes predominate, such as weathered, fumed, Flemish, Austrian and Early English shades.

We can furnish, on special order, any article illustrated above, we can outfit completely library or dining rooms. Among the products of these folks may be found:

HAVANA, Aug 25-The insurgents commanded by General Guerrera, the rebel chieftian who has been raiding Pinar del Rio, are almost within sight of the Cuban capital. They racided two towns last night within nine miles of the city and after looting the stores and ter away without being attacked by the ru ion concerning the rebel movements.

Reinforcements for the loyal troops are being constantly hurried to the front, but they are so utterly lacking in discipline and so poorly armed that little confidence is fold in them by the people who are becoming more and more convinced that the Palma government is tottering to a fail. Even the news that a large consignment of rapid fire guns and ammunition left New York for the troops has not reassured the population. Iavana into a fover of excitement which

Aside from the situation in Pinar del Rio, which is growing hourly worse, grave fears are feit because of the lack of news from Santiago province. This has been a stronghold of disaffection and the negro population there, which is large, has been in a state of unrest for soveral weeks.

READY FOR FRAY, When word comes, it is believed it will be that the insurgents there are in great numbers. A statement was given out at the palace today that General Rabi, the dashing hero of the war of revolution, had sent word to Palma that he was ready to take the field at the head of 5000 men in siding the suppression of the revolt, is not believed. The latter are demoralized by their defeat of yesterday and puzzled by the tactics of Guerrera who moves suddenly and in the most unexpected directions. He seems to be avoiding a decisive engagement and is harrassing the entire province, capturing towns only to abandon them after seizing food supplies and arms and raiding plantations, where he runs off the cattle and horses.

In Santiago province a band of 500 revolutions of the state of the st

TAN INVESTIGATING

KILLING OF POACHERS

(Special to THE TRIBUNE, W. R. Hearst service, over longest leased wire in the World.)

WASHINGTON, Aug 25—A most serious face was placed on the complication with Japan over the seal poncher's killing by a dispatch received today from Ambassador Wright at Tokio There was some wonderment when the Tokio giverment yesterday commissioned Mr. Hanthura a subordinate of the embasev here, to go to Alaska and investigate the circumstances.

Today thus was partly explained by a cribigram from Ambassador Wright, which says that one of the scaling schooniers engaged in the raid has reached a Japanese port minus two boats and several of its crew.

It is the understanding that when the boat arrived there its people were interviewed by the authorities and they told so good a story that their government decided it was worth while to have its own agent investigate in detail. What the crew had to say to the Jajanese officials is not known Evidentity, however, they made the Tokio authorities think the merits were not all on one side.

This self-appointed arbiter of mor-als has interested the clerical press by has clamorings and the removal of the pictures is being urged with fanat-ical vigor. "Is it good that the little people who must sit all day in the school room should have this picture always before their eyes?" they ask, and answer, their own questions with a vigorous negative.

Comic publications are making much of this alti-low neck crusade and picture the puritanical fervor of the zealots as the result of another American invasion, this time of weird

So far the emperor has not express-ed aimself and the imperial dictum is awaisted with keenest interest. It is no secret that William II is in his own estimation a keen art critic. Once when he was having five bronze stat-ues of the Prince of the house of Orange made by five different sculptors, he surprised the artists by entering their studies and severely criticizing the works in their unfinished state. Afterward he read the astonished sculptors a long lecture on the history of armor—for it was in this regard that they had most grossly erred—and abruptly took his departure.

So the emperor will probably decide whether or not the pictures of the empress are harmful to the youth of Marquess of Granby Becomes Duke, to the Satisfaction of All England.

LONDON, Aug. 25.-The popular Marquess of Granby has succeeded to the Dukedom of Rutland, the former Duke having recently passed away in his eighty-seventh year. The present Duke was for a number of years principal private secretary to the late Marquess of Salisbury. His position socially and politically is of the highest, and his succession gives general satisfaction.

The late Duke was one of the mos notable figures in the British aristocracy during the reign of Queen Victoria. At an early age he took the position in society that his high descent gave him, and entered parliament, canvassing Newark with Mr. Gladstone and bringing loyal support to Sir Robert Peel. He was a devoted student of the problems of the poor and favored a renewal of diplomatic relations with the court of Rome.

The present Duke, who has succeeded to the title and estates will probably follow in his footsteps in regard to things political.

Cuba Desires Annexation--Secret of Revolt.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Behind the scenes of the Cuban revolt great commercial forces and tendencies are today struggling to direct affairs. Immense interests want Cuba annexed to the United States; others, perhaps more powerful, do not. But it can be set down that the scenes in the revolutionary drama on which the curtain is just rising, are little more than a painted panorama intended for the public to see, while behind the real interests are conducting a very different much in Cuba recently, who has large financial interests there and who is associated with the great railway and commercial interests in the island with which Sir William Van Horne is con-negted, the following statement of the situation is obtained.

FAVORS ANNEXATION.

He is frankly in favor of annexation and believes it will come. He says: "The first argument for annexation is the tariff. The United States is LOBSTER—Showhake (flats)— 250 QVSTERS—tose brand— from Cuba $17,000,000 of merchandise Regularly flor 3 for 250 and in 1905, $18,000,000. Less than OYSTERS—Silver Thistle, is— SHRIMP—Showflake— 12466 $5,000,000 worth of this great amount from Cuba $17,000,000 of merchandise came in duty free. By the amount of the immense duties paid on this trade Cuba's commerce is hampered.
"The restriction would be removed by annexation. For these reasons the beet sugar and cane sugar industries of this country oppose annexation. The tobacco producers oppose it and the California and Perida fruitgrowers will be among the most powerful opponents. "Cuba cannot hope for annexation except following occupancy by the United States to reserve order. Until there is a thoroughly effective appearance, at least, of serious disorder the United States will not step in. Once in, the Cubans believe she will neves again get out.

FORTY COLONIES.

"There are more than forty American colonies in the island and more than $50,000,000 American and nearly as much more European money has been invested there in three years.

"All big property interests in Cuba want annexation. Palma and his government want it. His opponents in this force it. The people generally want it. Cuba has no land taxes and hardly any

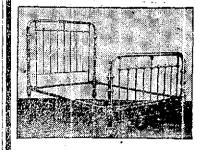

DOING WELL.

"In short, Cuba is doing exceedingly well, but knows she would do much better if a part of the United States. The workings of the different influences I have outlined are plain and (explarly 65c cake or $1.75 per box, simple. I cannot attempt to fathom the attitude of mind of the Washington administration, but I am sure that it is the most important uncertain factor in the situation. It is plain enough where the property interests in Cuba stand, both domestic and foreign controlled. They want annexation, stability ,the American market and the immense development that would follow. The administration in Washing-Regularly 10c and 15c cake and 25c and ton is maintaining a demeanor of unconcern which I cannot but regard as assumed. The revolt is gaining ground. I believe it will bring a crisis very soon and that the question of what to do with the island will pres-

turn, as he was released by Altoona recently.
Captain Dillon has recovered from his injuries and will open with the Seraphs at Seattle.
Gilmead, who leaves for Wheeler springs tomorrow, said tonight:
"We have a new pitcher coming to join the Seraphs, in Al Welmot, now with Zanesville in the Interstate league. The boy is a wonder as he has won sixteen games out of the last eighteen in which he played."

CALIFORNIA, SUNDAY MORNING, AUGUST 26, 1906.

The Nelson-Gans Fight Fake Is Discussed

Mayor Schmitz' Candidacy Is Talk of Town

SAN FRANCISCO, August 25.—I see the Goldfield sports are greatly worried over the story I told last Sunday about the manner in which it had been planned to fake the Gans-Nelson fight. In one of the local papers I read that the bad men of Goldfield determined to lynch and then tar and feather anyone who dared question the honesty of the bout and announced that they would put an end to all newspapermen who printed a line reflecting upon the integrity of faker Gans or Mr. Nelson, who stood in with the Britts in the matter of a phony forfeit and the crooked arrangement to divide the purse at Colma.

But notwithstanding the terrible threats that the bold men of Goldfield are emitting, the talk among the genuine sporting fraternity throughout the country is "Will it be another fake?" Wherever you go you hear people interested in prize fighting say, "It ought to be a great battle, if it is on the level."

And there's the rub.

Now for the edification of the gentlemanly promoters of this fight I will say that I know that Gans has already been offered $25,000 to lay down and that sporting characters of Seattle and Portland were in on the deal. These are the persons who operate through Al Herford, who is the real manager for Gans.

It is a notorious fact that Gans hasn't a dollar in the world, yet from Goldfield every day come dispatches about the bank roll he exhibits on all occasions. Gans has already admitted under oath that he faked in several fights. Once a faker always a faker. Siler, who is to referee the coming battle, officiated as referee at the notirious Gans-McGovern fake in Chicago. It was that awful rob that led to the suppression of pugilism in the windy city.

Aside from the announcement that Mayor Schmitz may be a candidate for governor, running on an independent ticket the most widely discussed political problem is the Independent League, which is now being formed by Joseph Dwyer, who, ten years ago, controlled the Democratic party on this side of the bay.

Of course, the League is to be built along the same lines as its big brother of the east. It will be as an Independent League candidate that William Randolph Hearst will run for the governorship of the empire State this fall, if he consents to make the race at all. He is firmly convinced that the principles of the League are destined to completely overshadow anything in the way of dogma or doctrines the old Democratic party may put forth.

If the League becomes a permanent institution, and it certainly will if Hearst is elected governor of New York, there will be little or no room for what styles itself the "Democratic party," for without Hearst and the interest he controls there is no real support for that old and decrepit carcass.

During the last two national campaigns Hearst has been the only real big figure on the side of the Democrats, save their candidate, William Jennings Bryan. Without Hearst the first Bryan campaign would have been as disastrous as the Parker

But now that Hearst is breaking away (I should write has broken away) from the organization and announces he will remain without the fold so long as the Belmonts, the Ryans and the other leaders of, or slaves to, corporation rule, are forced into political obscurity, where is the Democracy to get off?

The Independence League is to be made of young men. The old war horses of the political battlefields of yesterday are not desired for active service. If they are willing to act as cheerers and take the orders of their juniors, they will be welcomed with wide open arms, but if they try to revive the fueds of the past, they will be sat upon with a vengeance.

The politics of the future is to remain in the hands of young men, men who are not satiated with a desire to do something unsavory at the polls in order to get the better of an opponent. The Independence League movement will be as much of, an educational effort as anything else; for the people with the best interests of the country at heart feel the time has come when each and every voter should determine how to cast his ballot according to his conscience.

The trickery that Gavin McNab put such a premium on in the past during all the years he so gallantly led the hosts of Democracy to certain defeat, has had its day, just as Gavin has had his. The catch phrases with which the leaders of old made the people think they were working in their interests when in reality they were working only for the interest and prosperity of corporate wealth now sound false and hollow Hereafter, the arguments to get a man's vote must be logical and sincere. That is the condition of things the Independence League wants to bring about.

The men at the head of the League are all of good character, with ideals as definite as ideas, and who have the courage to live up to their convictions, no matter what the outcome. If they are defeated they will not be discouraged, for they believe they have the right end of it and ultimately the truth must

For the past six years the Democracy of California has been just as subservient to the trusts and the tainted money element as any of the other parties that openly protest allegiance to the money power.

The leaders of the Democratic party in California have all become rich. Gavin McNab, for instance, is reputed to be worth in the neighborhood of a million dollars and you have heard of him trying a big law suit. Dr. Dodge is rich. He recently bought a fine house and since the disaster has gone into the plumbing business, which is the only thing that pays better than politics, so far as I can learn.

Chris. Buckley is worth several millions and he wasn't able to see just where all the loose change was lying around. Martin Kelly is broke, but then he spent enough money for wine to reconstruct the Flood building. Phil. Crimmins is also a deady one. However, the fates were kind to him, for he had neither brains nor education and yet he managed to get hold of enough money to keep three or four establishments and support a perpetual souse.

One of the aims of the Independence League is to put a stop to men of this type from getting rich through the unthinking of their dupes and through their criminal abuse of the ballot at the polls.

And so far as the gubernatorial candidacy of Mayor Schmitz is concerned, I can tell you that the leaders of the organization and the leaders of the unorganized, from Charley Spear down, are extermely worried. They all know that Schmitz is still strong with a certain element in the community and that the threatened car strike may give him a chance to distinguish himself, all agree. If the strike assumes the pretension it promises, the man who settles it will certainly be the biggest individual in the State and it now looks as though no one but Schmitz will be able to bring about peace.

President Cornelius of the Street Carmen's Union is one of the mayor's political favorites and I a mtold Schmitz has more than once dined with Mr. Patrick Calhoun, who is the head and front of the Trolley Trust. Mr. Thornwell Mullaly. more popularly known in club circles as Trolley Tomale, the nephew of the illustrious Pat Calhoun, is closer to Schmitz than his honor's undershirt. At the various meetings of the committee of forty, whenever rapid transit was under discussion. Mr. Tomale Trolley (or I should write Trolley Tomale) was permitted to shoot off his mouth more liberally than anyone else. It was because of the frivolous manner in which he proclaimed his intimacy with the mayor that many people believed the accusations against Schmitz that he had abandoned the unions for the capitalists, especially when he declared against an underground trolley system and announced that he did not think the municipal ownership of the Geary street road would be a howling success.

But now they tell me the mayor is ready to turn a flipflop. He is openly talking in favor of the municipal ownership of public utilities just as he did before the last election and does not at all approve of the number of people recently maimed and killed by the deadly overhead trolley.

If you watch Mayor Schmitz and keep an accurate tab on the various public moods through which he passes, you can get a very good line on public opinion. The mayor is the best political weathercock I know. Right after the disaster when everybody was shouting for a means of transportation and the United Railroads announced its intention of running its old overhead trolley cars, the mayor agreed with Mr. Trolley Tomale that that would be an excellent thing to do. But the mayor did not publicly declares himself in favor of the deadly overhead wire until hundreds of men prominent in labor circles and hundreds of men, prominent as capitalists, had come to him and begged him to do everything in his power to have the street car company resume business.

Incidentally, he sent out a number of his confidential agents to find the exact condition of the public mind so far as the live wires of the trust were concerned. They reported to him that the people didn't care how dangerous the overhead trolley was so long as they could navigate from the ferry to their homes and get about the unburnt district in half-way decent shape.

But now everything is changed and the mayor knows it better than anyone else. Those who shouted loudest for the resumption of the overhead trolley system now denounce it most bitterly. The manner in which the overcrowded cars are permitted to whirl at deadly speed across Fillmore street and up and down Eddy and Ellis streets is something terrific and those most vitally affected are the labor people. It is impossible to ride in any of these cars with any degree of comfort and the manner in which the fuses blow out, shooting streaks of lightning from one end of the car to the other has so terrorized a number of passengers that they are afraid to either sit or stand close to the motorman.

At the clubs you can hear all sorts of commendatory remarks on the California street line and the Geary street line, both of which are cable roads and both of which are run opposition to Mr. Calhoun's live wire trust. So the mayor who has heard all these reports has decided that the overhead trolley system is unpopular and when the men go on strike for their $3 wage and 8-hour workday it is safe to predict that the mayor will be on their side. If he is not, he might just as well move out of San Francisco. If he gets away with the street car strike in good shape, and there is no reason why he should not if he simply uses the power at his hands, he will be in a position to go before the voters of the State as the legitimate friend of the common people, and in these times that is a pretty good campaign slogan.

"Whin is a bum not a bum?" asked Supervisor McGushin of Supervisor Lonergan as the latter was putting away a big steam and a piece of mince pie at the same time.

"A bum," replied Lonergan, "is not a bum whin there isn't a chance to graft."

"Thin," answered McGushin, "Yure not a bum."

"You bet Oi'm not," chuckled Lonergan, "but Oi must admit th' graft is getting a bit short since th' newspapers have been expozin' me. At furst Oi didn't know what to do wid th' money but now Oi has a hard toime makin' enough to buy me champagne an frog legs."

"I saw," butted in Supervisor Mike Coffey, "a pile of fine cobble stones lying in the street as I came up town." .

"Are yez goin' back th' same way?" queried Lonergan.

"I am," answers Coffey.

"An' are th' stones worth anything?"

"You bet they are."

"Thin bedad, they'll not be there after yez go back," retorted Lonergan, who by being so quick at reparte 3 scored three beers on Coffey.

. "Whin is a limmon not a limmon," asked McGushin, who is known in čigarette circles as a "divil av a josher."

"A limin is not a limin," replied Lonergan, taking a long draw at the fine Chinese eigar behind which his face tried to conceal itself, "Whin it's a lime."

"That bein' th' case," smilingly replied McGushin, "Coffey is stuck fur th' dinner."

Such is the delicate persiflage in which the venerable city fathers indulge when not doing the people who elected them.

Yes, this is a great world in which we live.

Watchman.

EERKELEY, Aug. 25.—Weakened with terror and out of breath from rapid walking, a well-dressed young lady entored the driveway of Pape's rlaning mill last night and asked Nightwatchman George Furlong to protect her from a man who had followed her from Shattuck avenue to the corner of Milvia and Addison, where the mill is located.

"I noticed that a man was following me on Shattuck avenue," said the lady, "and for that reason I turned and retraced my steps. The man did the same and then I was sure that he had some object in view. After stopping in at one of the stores for a few minutes, he disappeared, and when I came out on the street I could see nothing of him. I had gone some distance before looking around to see the man who had been following me all evening walking not more than ten paces behind me. I had turned down Addison and he drew nearer. I walked faster and finally broke into a run, but he was gaining on me, and I stopped in here, knowing that there must be a nightwatchman."

As she stood in the glare of the electric light that adorns the center of the driveway, the gleam of diamonds revealed what was in all probability the incentive of the man's following her.

Unfair Fighting - Underclassmen Swear Vengeance.

BERKELEY, Aug. 25.-Prominent sophomores charge today that a dignified senior became so thoroughly excited and angry that he bit a number of belligerant "sophs" in the melee at the Harmon gymnasium steps yeareday. R. A. Rowley is the senior against whom the accusation of unfair fighting is made. The game as played between the warring classes permits of rough handling, and all the crowding, shoving, pulling, pushing and shouldering that can be done. a thing as a student who used his teeth in a mix-up was an unknown quantity.

P. Q. Stanton, leader of the sophomores in their fight against the juniors and seniors yesterday, the two upper classes being in the position of freshman guardians of the freshmen, declared during the scrimmage that he had bitten and others made the same complaint. The disgusted sophomores watched the fray closely and finally decided that Rowley, a senior and a prominent Kappa Alpha fraternity man, was the offender.

Plans were made last night to give Rowley a ducking, but he could not be found. The sophomores say that before Rowley leaves college he will be given a high-class ducking in chemistry pond and that next week will see the stunt performed.

Rowley denies that he bit any sophomore. He will resent any attempt to haze him. The idea of sophomores hazing a senior is a novelty and should it be done it is expected to invoke a blow at senior control that might imperil the entire idea of rule on the campus of upper classmen.

The Cosmopolitan magazine is in charge of Balley Millard, who gave up his position as literary editor of San Francisco Examiner in order to edit the Cosmopolitan.

He claims, I believe, to have discovered, if not Markham, at least his "Man With the Hoe," and is evidently determined to still more further his exploits.

Mr. Markbam, when living here, had a circle of admirers, but only in a small way. The Markham home was the center of a chosen literary clique, wife to whom he has united himself delightful people, unknown to fame, except locally. Had it not been for the praise bestowed upon him by Millard, Markham, to this day, would have remained practically unknown. He never wrote anything before or since to merit particular attention. It may be that, in time to come, he will produce poems worthy a génius, but it is a question, for the "Man With the Hoe" was the result of years of thought, and Edwin Markham is not a man in his early youth.

Oakland Aids San Francisco to Rise in Commercial World.

BAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15 .- According to the report of the clearing house, San Francisco reached sixth place in the commercial world last week for the first time in its history, passing Pittsburg. Heretofore Oakland has had no clearing house and all proving constantly, and there is an inthe trade of the 200,000 people in the cities across the bay has gone unrecorded, but since the fire in San Francisco the Oakland banks have formed a clearing house, and as this business is closely allied with commercial operations of San Francisca the reports from there rightfully indicate the business conditions about San Francisco bay. Taking this as a basis the clearings of the week ending Thurs-day, August 16, for the cities about the bay, amounted to a total of almost $48,000,000, as the San Francisco clearings were $43.914.147, while those of Oakland were $3,946,803. Thousands of people could find employment in the vine yards and orchards of California now, and the demand in San Francisco has not abated in the least.

WORK PROGRESSING

The work of removing the debris from the streets and from lots in San Francisco is progressing much more Brancisco is programmed to the beginning of August. Many of the large buildings which were damaged large buildings which were damaged by the fire but not destroyed, are now being placed in condition for rebuild-ing, and all this debris is being carried away, in addition to that from the streets and lots. Conditions are imcreasing improvement to the general tone of the business of the city. All evidence a feeling that the rebuilding of the burned section of San Francisco is a matter of but a year or so, and while work is going on the commercial interests will not suffer in the least.

From all parts of California come reports of increasing business. It is reported from the interior cities that business has increased greatly beyond that before the fire, and this general prosperity is felt to be the reflex of conditions in the metropolis. Crops of fruit, especially grapes, exceed those of many years past, and the prices of grapes have been materially advanced owing to the destruction of vast quantitles of wine in San Francisco.

ONE CAMP. Conditions among the refugess in San Francisco have improved so materially that it has been decided to move all those who are dependent uping to have people of these classes of on the relief fund into one camp and feed them from kitchens instead of distributing supplies. The number who will require this attention is now so small that it will not be a difficult problem. Those who are able to work will be placed where they will not be able to obtain supplies, and it is thought that this procedure will ma-terially affect conditions in the camps.

In each apartment was found a retinue of servants and also a chauffeur who looked after Dussel's automobiles.

1906 is to go down in history as a bad year for the lovers of Rhine wine, for it looks as if very little of the famous grapes along the shores of the German rivers will be in a fit state to be gathered this season. Palmistry is an ancient recognized science. Your life and all that the years hold is plainly written in your hand. The scientific palmist reveals to you your character, capabilities, virtues and faults; state of your health, length of your life, what vocation you would best succeed in, etc. etc. Clairvoyance is one of the rarest giffs of nature, the learned and honest who have taken the trouble to investigate, are willing to admit that there are some people gifted with clairvoyant foresight, whose reflex vision enables them to cast shadows of coming events and focalize them upon the mind.

Half the mistakes in life arise from not knowing how to act in harmony with coming events. To be forewarned by one thoroughly conversant with the science of paimistry and endowed.

That this government is not taking steps to meet a crisis is absurd. At the department it is learned that it has me on foot an inquiry to ascertain who is on foot an inquiry to ascertain who is behind the revolutionists and who are furnishing apparently unimportant people in Cuba with the sinews of war.

It is evident to the department that the people who are pulling the strings are either those who favor annexation in this country and in Cuba or the agents of foreign governments who wish to destroy if they can the understood proceedings of the United States over Cuba.

There are things which the United

It must either intervene or let the constitution, especially to the Plati

the United States not only is authorized to stop the efforts of foreign nations

DELICATE SITUATION.

The easy gait at which the State Department is going at this time is due to the fact that the United States is already on the island by reason of its splendld naval station at Guantanamo. The situation is delicate for this government for two reasons: One, that President Palma, so far as is known, has not personally asked the assistance of the by foreign nations that it meant anne-

WISH WHO AKLAND PROPERTY OWNERS

NINETY DAYS AGO our exclusive contract plan (the first to be announced in Oakland) was an experiment. Today it is a pronounced success and is being adopted by many other agents. We have received many expressions of approval for our courage in taking this stand, which is against all pre vious customs in Oakland. No man can advertise property and offer it for sale in an intelligent and forceful manner unless he is familiar with it and is convinced of its merit. Our plan is to list only that which we believe we can sell, consequently, we have at all times a small but carefully selected list with which we are thoroughly familiar. The work of sifting, which is usually left to the buyer, is done in advance by our method, and no time is wasted on property we are unable to deliver. If you want your property sold and you will be satisfied with a reasonable price, let us look at it and talk the matter over with you.

We are always glad to show property and have a number of salesmen and rigs constantly at hand for that purpose. Call and see us. We will not crowd you to buy but leave that to your judgment after you have looked over our list.

Well York Aug. 25.—Reference to "The seven" of Wall street recently has drawn out numerous inquiries as to the identity of these mysterious men who control all business enterprises and almost control the political welfare of the United States. By common consent in the financial world the seven are John D. Rockefeller J. P. Morgan, James J. Hill, James Stillman, Goorge F. Baiter, James Stillman, Goorge F. Baiter, James Stillman, Goorge F. He it is who finances the schemes of the system. The Rockefeller plans of campaign except to finance them. But so great is his power that the system as the equal of John D. NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Were not the motives back of it all so sinister, the public might view with amusement the movement now under full swing to increase dividends of corporations. The movement is in effect a plea of guilty entered by the boards of directors to the charge of grafting. In the past when times of prosperity came, the great earnings were covered up and care was taken to make the showing in net very small. This year there is the marvelous feature of cuting the exponses to increase the dividends. This day has year, the exposes to increase the dividends. It means that the prits are going to the stockholders. Farring stocks were centers of more stocks of more than the prits are going to the stockholders. The stocks of some good souls are expressing alarm at what they term the unconservative action of directors in increasing dividends. All the increases thus far made or even through are conservative and proper. The stocks of corporations have all the time been worth much more than they were selling for.

TRUE FOR YEARS.

This has especially been true through the last three years. The pablic has been keept out of the good things because the fact the scul of honor have pleaded with their clients to buy stocks at low prices, but the great advance now finds these clients with their hands empty and with nothing to sell on the boom. John Knill Planned Novel Means of Keeping in Public Mind.

GLASGOW, Aug. 25.—The Glasgow Herald, after calling attention to the fact that even the last trump will have difficulty with a scientifically built sepulcher that has cost over $20,000, declares that no matter what the millions of the late Russell Sage may do it is pretty certain they will not keep his memory so green as that of the deceased John Knill of St. Ives, Corn-deceased John Knill of St. 1925, Corn-wall.

The Glasgow Heraid then goes on to explain: "By the purchase of an annuity yielding $50, Mr. Knill, who died at the beginning of the last cen-tury, has succeeded in associating his name with a pretty custom which, for all one can tell, may last as long as St. Ives itself. St. Ives itself.

Every year ten little maidens and two widows assemble at his mauso-loum, in the presence of thousands of people, as they did the very day that Russell Sage was buried. John's stone coffin is exposed to view, and all the ladies who want handsome husbands drink of the water gathered in the capstone. Then, after the singing of the Hundredth Psalm, the maidens, having danced around the tomb, are presented with $2.50 cach, the widows with $10 each, and the ceremony concludes. If the late Mr. Sage had only known of the late Mr. Knill's recipe for a secure resting place he might have saved by far the larger part of his funeral expenses, and gone doyn to posterity as a benevolent old gentleman who, in spite of his millions, possessed that touch of humor which makes the whole world kin."
